Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 17-19, 25-27 and 34-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Call.

Call shows, figure 1, methods and apparatus for disseminating product information via the Internet. The product code translator 101 is the common module, which is used by and available for the manufacturers' Internet sites (supplier's web site, see column 1, line 64) and online resellers (reseller's website, column 1, line 57). There is a registration handler process, which allows access to the product translator. One method is user certificates (with related address). Similar password, certificate or digital signature protection schemes may be used to provide access to certain data (sets of information) or to data in certain forms only to authorized requesters (sets of related addresses). Online supplier and resellers inherently have payment engine functions. Since they are both selling the products in the product translator, they still use the information in the translator.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 11/1/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant asserts that the prior art has no relation to providing information about the products in response to a user query. This is not relevant since it is not in the claim language. The examiner is considering accessing a website the same as "calling" a module in the website.

Applicant does not believe the payment engine functions are inherent in on line suppliers and resellers. The term "payment engine functions" is extremely vague and the bar to meet this limitation is very low. However, the point of inherency is moot because, upon further review of Call, it specifically recites an EDI system between all of the parties involved (column 12, top, first and second payment engines)

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
